THE 1956

EAGLE

A picture of the school, the people in the school, the work of the school, and the life of the school.

This book becomes a history of the year '55 and '56, a memory book of the school days, and a record for the community. As a result of the cooperation on the part of the school and hard work and planning on the part of the staff, we present this 1956 EAGLE to you.

CHARLOTTEVILLE HIGH SCHOOL
Charlottesville, Indiana

DEDICATION

The senior class of 1956 wishes to dedicate this yearbook to show our appreciation to those individuals who have supported, directed, and encouraged us through our years of school; also to those students and teachers who have promoted scholarship, sportsmanship, and citizenship within our school.

We give special thanks to our parents and to our sponsors, Miss Raines and Mr. Bell.

CLASS HISTORY

The 1956 Charlottesville High School graduating class will add 28 names to the fast growing list of alumni; that is, if all finish this school year.

Nine of them began their school careers in this school - Beverly Beeson, Barbara Davis, Julia Holliday, Martha Edwards, John Scott, Gene Holliday, Kenneth Griffith, Beverly Poer, and Rowena Silver. Mrs. Frost was their teacher.

In the next two years Ruth McDaniel and Lloyd Young joined the class. Miss Raper taught them in the second and Mrs. Wilson in the third grade.

In the fourth grade the Westland pupils came to Charlottesville - Pauline Wicker, Jimmy Shoufler, Fred Muegge, and Leon Seely. Ann Athey and Sandra Owings also entered the class when it was taught by Miss Mae Willis.

Mrs. Vestal kept them busy during the 5th grade and Mrs. Bell taught the 6th. Shirley Oneal came in the 5th; Ann Couch and Linda Peffer came in the 6th.

Mr. Robert Bell welcomed them in the 7th grade and was their sponsor until his resignation in the spring of 1955. Daught Roler and Jean Young entered Charlottesville that year, and Gene Holliday returned, having tried Central of Knightstown and Eden.

Mary and Martha Mooney, the "guess which twins", came from Greenfield during their freshman year. In the sophomore year, Marilyn Delhagen came from Maxwell. Mrs. Curry was co-sponsor during the sophomore and junior years. Marilyn Cook and Barbara Bledsoe joined the class as juniors.

At the end of a work-crowded junior year, the class, accompanied by Mr. Eilar and Miss Raines, realized their long-planned dream trip to Washington and New York.

Their senior class changed only slightly from the year before, gained two: Pat Haywood from Greenfield and Ann Couch, who returned after absence of two years; and lost three: Joe Beyers, Sandra Gatlin, and Joan Hughes.

Many things have been crowded into their senior year. Many have maintained a high scholastic standard, won honors in the band; all have helped to produce the annual, and all have taken an active part in the school activities.

CLASS WILL

We, the Senior Class of the Charlottesville School, County of Hancock, and State of Indiana, being of sound mind and memory, do hereby make, publish, and declare this to be our last will and testament, hereby revoking any will or wills heretofore made by us.

We, the Seniors, will and bequeath to the juniors top priority in the seating at ball games; our well-worn Economics and Government books, and the pleasant but serious responsibility of being seniors.

I, Lloyd Young, will my ability to "relax" in all classes to Miss Raines and my "Reserve" rank to Benny Brooks. I, Daught Roler, will my long hair to Carolyn Roland and my "hope" chest to Sharon Nelson.

I, Martha Edwards, will my vocalizing to Patty Pope and my artistic ability to Philip Johnson. I, Rowena Silver, will my appetitie to Mr. Green and my baton to Judy Moore. I, Fred Muegge, will my ability to play basketball to Ralph Lewman and my English books to Joyce Rasor.

I, Jean Young, will my place in the cafeteria to Marilyn Miller and my happy disposition to Kenneth Beeson. I, Ruth McDaniel, will my red hair to George Arapov and my bookkeeping to Vonneitha Hartzell.

I, Ann Athey, will my ability to economize to Bob Cook. My position as first on Senior roll I give to Ronald Althoff. I, Beverly Poer, will my ability to chew gum to Dorothy Apple and my stack of sheet music to Kay Gatlin. I, Jim Shoufler, will my frame to Wayne Dye and my flat top to David Wall. I, Barbara Davis, will my wardrobe of clothes to Nancy Apple and my typewriter to John Hackleman.

I, Leon Seely, will my flat top hair cut to John Joachimi and my track shoes to Paul Scott. I, Ann Couch, will my round face to Ron Johnson and yell leader's outfit to Ann Scott. I, Pat Haywood, will my pony tail to Sharla Cecil and my high honors to Judy Carmany.

I, Linda Peffer, will my pigeon toes to Mr. Smith and my band medals to Marla Miller. I, Beverly Beeson, will my ability to concentrate on Sousaphones to Martha Weber and my big blue eyes to Joan Athey.

I, Marilyn Delhagen, will my spunk to Gloria Tanner and my position as Editor of The Eagle News to Rose Wyse. I, Kenneth Griffith, will my Tennessee Cadillac to John Rasor and my carefree ways to Donald Janes.

I, Gene Holliday, will my ability to get along with sophomore girls to my brother, Paul; and our basketball skill to the Smith brothers. I, Marilyn Cook, will my flappy elbows to Mr. Smith and my creations in clothing to Sue Riddle. I, Julia Holliday, will my last name to Karen Moore and Marilou Simmons and my study halls to Karen Miller. I, Sandra Owings, will my camera to Murriel Stamper and my week at 4-H school to Arlene Davis.

I, John Scott, will my interest in girls to Larry Pope and my car to Frank Buscher. I, Shirley Oneal, will my second set of Bookkeeping papers and also my quiet ways to Geraldine Davis. I, Pauline Wicker, will my love for Hancock Central to Mickey Gregory.

We, Mary and Martha Mooney, together, will our ability to confuse both teachers and students to the next set of identical twins. I, Barbara Bledsoe, will my laugh to George Miller and my position in the library to Linda Watts.

In Witness Whereof, we, the Seniors, the testators, have set our hand and seal hereto, this nineteenth day of January, in the year of our Lord, one thousand, nine-hundred and fifty-six (1956).

September 12, 1968

Dear Diary,

As usual, I was seated in front of the TV, ready to watch my Sunday night favorite, "Big, Big Universe." But, I waited with unusual anticipation. This was the big evening; the program was featuring my class of '56 of CHS as the average class from a small school having its beginning on the National Highway, U. S. 40. Each member of the class was on the screen and I learned what the gang has been doing these twelve years.

Sandra Owings, always famous for her figure, I remember, was modeling the creations designed by the master in this field, Lloyd Young. Linda Peffer and John Scott are noted writers. John's most recent novel is Dig My Latest Dream. Linda is the author of the best seller, How to do Things the Speedy Way.

Several members were recognized for their musical talents: Ann Athey is the first lady to play in the Band of America, and Gene Holliday has replaced Snooky Lanson on Hit Parade. Snooky was getting squeaky. Barbara Bledsoe has joined the Gilette Quartet and sings TV commercials during the World Series. Mary and Martha Mooney are leading songs for Billy Graham's religious services. Leon Seely is a most proficient castinet player and is with the Bone Rattlers at Hernando's in South Africa.

Some of the gang have entered the field of competitive sports. Ann Couch is practicing for the Olympics where she will enter the pole vaulting event. Fred Muegge has organized a top professional basketball team, The Westland Globe Spinners; Jim Shoufler is the center for this team. Shirley Oneal and Jean Young are bronco busting for a western rodeo. Beverly Beeson has trained to be a lady wrestler.

Kenneth Griffith has just finished a picture of Beverly Beeson that is to be reproduced for billboards, advertising her debut in Madison Square Garden. He operates one of Indiana's largest photographic studios. Martha Edwards' artistic ability parallels that of Grandma Moses. She designs Christmas cards for Hallmark.

Inventors and designers do come from small towns; Julia Holliday designs dresses exclusuvely for the tall girl. Daught Roler has invented a formula that can be injected into rabbits to dye their fur the color of mink. She raises rabbits. Marilyn Cook is manufacturing jet aircraft for the Navy.

Pauline Wicker and Ruth McDaniel have taken to the air. Pauline is navigator on a space ship at Disneyland. Ruth is piloting a helicopter that rescues shipwrecked men from the sea. She is really intrigued with her work.

Pat Haywood has excelled in agriculture. She is now cultivating 3,000 acres of cabbages to be processed for the Hollis Sauer Kraut Cannery. Rowena Silver has just returned from the International Livestock Exposition, where she received a grand champion placing on her Hereford Steer.

Marilyn Delhagen is the editor of Superman Comics. She got her start with the Charlottesville Eagle News. Barbara Davis manages a well-known children's clinic in Indianapolis.

The program was concluded with an interview with Miss Raines, our sponsor. She said it had been so hard on her nerves guiding us through school that she had retired from teaching and now trains lions for Barnum and Baily Circus. She finds it much more relaxing.

My name was mentioned; the only one not there. It was good to see them all, even at long distance. Surely wish I could have visited with them at their party after the program, but I had to take care of my family-five sets of twins keep me so busy.

LITTLE LEAGUE BASKETBALL

Basketball was organized for the grade children. Eight teams were chosen from grades three to six and were coached by high school boys and men from the community.

Each team met and played on Saturday afternoon for a 9-week schedule and each team played once at half-time at a regularly scheduled high school game.

Coaches were David Wall, Bob Oakes, Robert Addison, Charles Simmons, Bill Payne, Robert Morris, Ed Young, Dale Holden, and Keith Brown.

LITTLE LEAGUE BASEBALL

During the summer vacation, Mr. McCleerey organized a little league Baseball schedule for the grade school boys. Teams were selected and were coached by high school athletes. Bob Oakes coached the Giants; Harold Oneal, the Indians; John Kintner, the Bombers; and Don Griffith, the Panthers.

The Giants were champs, but lost to the All-Stars in the final game. The All-Stars also played teams from New Palestine and Knightstown.

SCHOOL BAND

The Charlottesville School Band, under the excellent direction of Mr. Austin Smith, started the year with a bang. They placed 14th out of 90 entries in the marching competition at the Indiana State Fair.

With a lot of hard practice, they entered state auditions for marching bands in Class C and brought home a first division rating. It was stated on the comment sheet that the community has a band to be proud of.

This spring the band participated in the Hancock County Spring Music Festival. They practiced diligently in preparation for state concert band auditions held in March.

Mr. Smith and his band have a history they can well be proud of. In the 12 years of concert auditions and 4 years of marching auditions, they have earned and display in the trophy case 14, first division plaques. Many uniforms are covered with medals won at district and state events.

Officers for the year are: Rowena Silver, President; Wayne Dye, Vice-President; Judy McClarnon, Secretary-Treasurer; and Judy Carmany, Reporter.

MARCHING BAND

Rowena

The Charlottesville Marching Band entered stiff competition at the State Fair, and received 14th place out of 96 bands.

At the District Marching Contest at Southport, the band again came through with a first division placing.

They marched at the Carthage Festival and at Butler University Homecoming. And, what a day at Butler! One might say Butler joined the Charlottesville band!

The band marched at some of the home games and ended the year at the District Band Contest.
